Group to perform during Cruise Night

A new nightclub in Frackville is aiming to extend the fun during the fourth annual Cruise Night June 14.

Club Paparazzi, located at 49 N. Lehigh Ave., will host the band, The Legends.

The Legends are a group that specializes in performing the best songs of the 1950's and '60's, which is just the type of nostalgia that people look for inspired by the car cruise.

With poodle skirts, bobby sox, Cadillac's and Mustangs roaming the streets of Frackville on June 13, Club Paparazzi owners Tom and Sandy Burns are hoping to keep the nostalgia in the air all night long.

Along with hosting The Legends, Club Paparazzi will have a local personality from classic rock radio station, the Phoenix, 1450 AM, giving live updates on the cruise from right outside the club.

The Legends will take stage at 8 p.m. – just after the Frackville Cruise is wrapping up. With the motto, "Grease back your hair and pull up your bobby socks cause here we go with some rock and roll," the band brings that added touch to end out Cruise Night in just the right fashion.
