

roaches

re for heavy rain from the o hit Florida.

LOCAL

Managing Editor

CINDY D'ALIO

may be reached at 628-6015.

Fax: 621-3359

E-mail: cdalio@republicanherald.com

New SKIP website features educational data

Schuykill Keep It Pretty (SKIP) has launched a new website — skiplitter.org — containing forms and information regarding scholarships, programs and science fairs.

The website also features information about the numerous programs SKIP sponsors and promotes for elementary, junior and senior high school students, such as the Dr. Harry A. Crosswell Environmental Citizenship Scholarship.

Forms and informational packets are available for downloading via the site's Forms & Newsletter section, according to Louise M. Huegel, SKIP executive director.

"We intend to utilize this site as a communication tool with county residents and children, as well as the county's school teachers and directors," Huegel said. "SKIP has very valuable educational programs and we now have a way that any of the school districts in the county can get the information," she added.

SKIP is a cooperative effort involving the SKIP board of directors, Schuykill County commissioners, office of the Schuykill County Solid Waste and Recycling coordinator and county residents.